Portfolio Commentary

The fund returned +2.32% in January. Widespread positive macroeconomic data led a recovery in global equities over the month after a dismal fourth quarter of 2018 which saw the S&P 500 index return -13.31% in USD terms. Government bond yields rose significantly over the month, reflecting higher growth and inflation expectations and corporate bonds outperformed government equivalents amid the beneficial environment for risk. Overall the portfolio was clearly positioned far more defensively than many sector peers as a result of market conditions at the end of December. The SAA multi-asset growth portfolio returned +7.14%, well ahead of sector/benchmark. Having retreated to the relative safety of defensive assets after December's market rout, the DAA portfolio returned +1.30%. This was relatively pleasing given that most trend followers finished the month in the red after downward trends quickly reversed. At December end, U.S fixed income prices had resumed an upward trend, as yields fell, while long term positive momentum/trends in most international equity/property markets and across the commodity complex were well and truly in question. The LA portfolio returned around +0.66% while the HFRU Macro Index returned +0.19% & the HFRU Composite Index returned +1.95%. A global macro manager that is more long-oriented was the largest contributor to the portfolio with a return of +3.65% while a managed futures (trend follower) fund was the largest detractor (-2.10%).

Investment Objective

The Fund's investment objective is to produce capital growth and a total return (total return includes interest, capital gains, dividends and distributions) higher than that of its peer group(s) while maintaining a lower level of annualised volatility and a focus on reducing the depth and breadth of potential portfolio drawdown.

Investment Strategy

The Fund will aim to achieve its investment objective by utilising a highly diversified portfolio of active strategies and global asset classes that are broadly separated into 3 sub-portfolios:

Strategic Asset Allocation (SAA)

The SAA portfolio aims to provide capital growth with a reduced level of volatility via strategic exposures to a wide range of asset classes. The manager's focus is on determining the relative attractiveness of asset classes based on an assessment of the macroeconomic environment, valuations and investor sentiment.

Dynamic Asset Allocation (DAA)

The DAA portfolio aims to provide capital growth whilst maintaining a focus on minimising the potential for deep drawdown that is typically associated with traditional strategic asset allocation. The portfolio uses a systematic active asset allocation strategy. All allocation decisions are made using quantitative methods and are unconstrained. Allocation rules are driven by time-series momentum & trend indicators, expected return and expected volatility factors.

Liquid Alternatives

The liquid alternatives portfolio aims to provide capital growth without the level of volatility and drawdowns typically associated with growth type assets (i.e. equities) and other traditional long-only multi-asset funds. The portfolio is diversified across multiple liquid hedge fund strategies, styles & managers all of whom aim to deliver positive absolute returns regardless of economic and financial market conditions. All managers trade liquid instruments, have good liquidity terms, operate in UCITS compliant structures and are monitored on both quantitative and qualitative measures.
